Introduction to Formations

All offensive plays start from a formation that dictates where all five players line up prior to the start of the play. Our flag football playbooks focus on six formations – spread, trips, stack, double back, I and single-back. There are always adjustments and changes a coach can make to these plays (including sending a player in motion), however it is important when coaching young players that you focus more on basic fundamentals of the game and less on complicated formations and motions. Teams that do just a few things very well will be more successful than teams that do many things less than well.

Note: Like play names, formations can be adjusted to fit your needs. For example, "Stack Left Trips" can refer to a formation in which two receivers are stacked to the left of center with the third receiver on that side of the ball as well.

PLAY-CALLING

When calling an offensive play in the huddle, give the formation first, then the play. Example: "Spread Left Fils Left" would refer to a Spread Left formation and the Fils Left play.

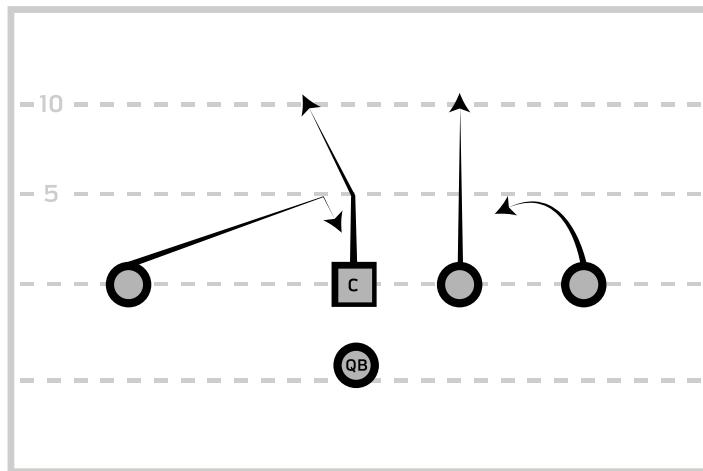

Note: Play names included in this playbook are suggestions. Feel free to adapt the play names to fit your needs and the mental capacity of your players. USA Football recommends picking a few plays that your team can run well rather than implementing the entire playbook.

QB = quarterback	= athlete's intended movement
C = center	••• = movement with the football
O = handoff toss	● = running back or wide receiver
